DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. The objection to claim 15 is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The rejection of claims 9-10 and 15-16 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-2, 4, 6-7, 9, 12-13, 15, 17, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Ikeda et al. (US 6468670).

Ikeda et al. disclose a perpendicular magnetic recording medium having a soft underlayer, a NiAl layer, a Ti layer and a magnetic layer disposed on a substrate. While the reference does not explicitly state that the Ti underlayer suppresses continuous crystalline growth from the underlying layer to the magnetic recording layer, the reference inherently satisfies this limitation by virtue of the fact that the present application discloses the same materials for use in the claimed layers.

It has been held that where claimed and prior art products are identical or substantially identical, or are produced by identical or substantially identical processes, the burden of proof is shifted to applicant to show that prior art products do not necessarily or inherently possess characteristics of claimed products where the rejection is based on inherency under 35 USC §102 or on prima facie obviousness under 35 USC §103, jointly or alternatively. In re Best, Bolton, and Shaw, 195 USPQ 430. (CCPA 1977).

6. Claims 1-8, 10-14, 16-18, and 20-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Lambeth et al. (US 6248416).

Lambeth et al. disclose a perpendicular magnetic recording medium having a first underlayer formed from a material such as Ag or Au, a second underlayer formed from a material such as Cu, a soft magnetic underlayer, a third underlayer formed from Ti and a magnetic layer, all disposed on a substrate. While the reference does not explicitly state that the Ti underlayer suppresses continuous crystalline growth from the underlying layer to the magnetic recording layer, the reference inherently satisfies this limitation by virtue of the fact that the present application discloses the same materials for use in the claimed layers.

It has been held that where claimed and prior art products are identical or substantially identical, or are produced by identical or substantially identical processes, the burden of proof is shifted to applicant to show that prior art products do not necessarily or inherently possess characteristics of claimed products where the rejection is based on inherency under 35 USC §102 or on prima facie obviousness under 35 USC §103, jointly or alternatively. In re Best, Bolton, and Shaw, 195 USPQ 430. (CCPA 1977).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 6/16/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the deposition method also affects the Ti layer's ability to act as a crystal growth discontinuation layer. However, according to the specification, it is the composition of the layer that controls this property (see p. 4, lines 25 et seq.). Thus, it appears that the teaching of a Ti layer by Ikeda et al. and Lambeth et al. inherently satisfies the claim limitation directed to a crystal growth discontinuation layer by virtue of Applicant's own disclosure in the specification.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
